Lecture: “Researching Revolutionary America”

Dr. John G. McCurdy

Hear author John G. McCurdy discuss his new book Quarters: The Accommodation of the British Army and the Coming of the American Revolution. Find out how debates over where to lodge British soldiers led to the American War for Independence. Learn techniques for researching eighteenth-century sources and how to locate Revolutionary-era archival documents.

Our Speaker

John G. McCurdy is Professor of History at Eastern Michigan University. He is the author of several books and articles on early American history. Dr. McCurdy regularly teaches courses in the history of colonial America and the American Revolution.

Class: “Black Loyalists in the Revolutionary War” 3:15 pm

Cheryl Garnett

Black Loyalists were soldiers of African descent fighting with the Red Coats against the colonists in the Revolutionary War. Learn why they joined with the British and where they went after the war.

Our Instructor

Cheryl Garnett, Is a Genealogy Society of Washtenaw County board member and co-founder of the WashtenawCounty African American Genealogical Society.
