“Using Evernote and OneNote for Genealogy” by Grace Wilfong 1:30

Evernote and OneNote are great note taking applications that can be shared among computers, laptops, tablets and cell phones. Learn the differences between the two and the many ways you can use these programs in your genealogy research including keeping track of possible relatives, figuring out complex logic and keeping location information.

Our Speaker: Grace Wilfong has been researching her own genealogy for over 20 years. She is a past President of the Northville Genealogical Society, a position she held for several years. Grace has helped many people with their research, taught many classes and is the editor of their society's book “Genealogy Research using 21st Century Techniques”.

“Using Family Search Part 1” by Mike Gerding 3:15

Learn how to improve your skills at using www.familysearch.org. This is the first of a two part series on using the Family Search website.

Our Instructor: Mike Gerding is a board member of the Genealogical Society of Washtenaw County and committee chair of the German Special Interest Group. He has taught several classes for GSWC.

Contacts: Marcia McCrary, info@washtenawgenealogy.org or Nancy Howard, president@washtenawgenealogy.org
