“Using Ancestry.com-Tips and Tricks” by Judy Nimer Muhn

You’ve seen the ads, you’ve thought about how to find your family, but did you know that you can access this resource FREE? Learn how to effectively use both the free and paid versions of Ancestry.com.

Our Speaker: Judy Nimer Muhn has been researching her family tree from the age of 12. Owner of Lineage Journeys, she conducts research for clients and offers presentations across the US, Canada and internationally. Judy is president of the Oakland County Genealogical Society.

“Meet the Dixboro Ghost: Historical Legend and Genealogical Evidence” by Ellen Hoffman Approximately 3:15

Just in time for Halloween, a time-tested ghost story from Washtenaw County in the 1840’s. This talk tells the story, then examines how it links to local history and family connections. The kinds of evidence available to explore genealogical connections at an early period of state and county records will be reviewed.

Our Speaker: Ellen Hoffman is a descendent of the Mulholland family made infamous by the ghost story. Ellen’s ancestors settled in Washtenaw County starting in the early 1800s. Ellen lived in Ann Arbor much of her adult life and has been doing genealogical research for about 25 years.
